This special issue of the Australasian Medical Journal offers a platform for researchers, health care practitioners, and experts to showcase ideas, research and review of topics that impact on the practice of cardiology. You are invited to submit papers in the following categories:

- Prevention
- Screening
- Clinical Practice and therapy
- Health care system design
- Patient-centred design

The AMJ is a fully peer reviewed journal, and features papers from a broad base of medical and paramedical researchers / experts. The scope includes research and audit through to discussion and opinion. We are especially keen to receive papers from new and emerging experts including students. Above all the AMJ adheres to the highest standards with particular emphasis on the novelty of ideas but also methodological and ethical rigor. For more information of AMJ, please visit <http://www.amj.net.au/index.php?journal=AMJ>

Please submit a 300 word abstract to describe your research/project. This must be in Microsoft Word format. You can email it to: Prof. Moyez Jiwa – editor@amj.net.au
