This special issue of the Australasian Medical Journal offers a platform for researchers, health care practitioners, and designers to showcase methods and processes that apply design thinking for effective health care services and products. You are invited to submit papers in the following topics:

- Ethics and research
- Ethics and end of life issues
- Ethics in child health
- Research Governance
- Ethics in medical publishing
- Ethics and health policy

The AMJ is a fully peer reviewed journal, and features papers from a broad base of medical and paramedical researchers / experts. The scope includes research and audit through to discussion and opinion. We are especially keen to receive papers from new and emerging experts including students. Above all the AMJ adheres to the highest standards with particular emphasis on the novelty of ideas but also methodological and ethical rigor. For more information of AMJ, please visit
