

Editor's Note

AMJ 2021 17(8)

Editor's Note

Rick Steves

Managing Editor

Australasian Medical Journal

E-mail: medicalsei@medicineinsights.com

Dear Readers,

Season's greetings!

We are pleased to present the tenth issue of AMJ for 2024. Along with original research papers, case studies, and review articles, this issue also highlights the valuable contributions made throughout the year.

We would like to extend our sincere appreciation for your interest and ongoing support of AMJ. We remain committed to ensuring a rigorous review process and maintaining high standards of quality in every publication. In this regard, we offer our heartfelt thanks to the AMJ editorial team, who evaluate manuscripts, manage the publication process, and provide timely responses to authors.

Special thanks are also due to our editorial board members, who have supported the journal since its inception and continue to foster its growth. Additionally, we deeply appreciate the time and dedication of our peer reviewers, whose efforts ensure that every paper meets the journal's standards for scientific integrity and excellence.

AMJ was founded to assist junior researchers and authors from developing nations in navigating the rigorous process of preparing and publishing scholarly manuscripts. We remain committed to this goal, and are proud to also receive an increasing number of submissions from leading researchers in Australia, Saudi Arabia, the United States, and beyond—further evidence of our dedication to quality.

As we look forward to continued success and growth, we invite you to consider joining our team of reviewers or recommending suitable peers. We also encourage you to submit your work for publication in AMJ and recommend the journal as a venue for high-quality academic research.

For any inquiries, please feel free to contact the AMJ editorial team. We wish you all the best in 2024 and beyond!

Sincerely,

Rick Steves

Managing Editor

Australasian Medical Journal