

Editor's Note

AMJ 2025 18(2)

---

Editor's Note

---

Rick Steves

Managing Editor

Australasian Medical Journal

E-mail: medicalsci@medicineinsights.com

Dear Readers,

Season's Best to You and Your Loved Ones!

We are excited to present the second issue of AMJ for 2025, featuring a diverse range of original research papers, case studies, and review articles. This edition highlights the valuable contributions made over the past year.

We sincerely thank our readers for their continued support. Maintaining high-quality standards through rigorous peer review remains our priority. Special appreciation goes to the AMJ editorial team for their hard work in managing publications and providing timely feedback.

Our heartfelt thanks extend to the editorial board and peer reviewers for their unwavering dedication to ensuring scientific integrity and excellence.

Founded to support early-career researchers, especially from developing countries, AMJ remains committed to this mission. We also celebrate growing submissions from researchers worldwide, including Tunisia, Saudi Arabia, and India.

We invite you to join our reviewer team, submit your research, or recommend colleagues.

For any inquiries, please contact the AMJ editorial team.

Sincerely,

Rick Steves

Managing Editor

Australasian Medical Journal